

MUSIC AND PEASING.

The Great Gathering of Turners at Cincinnati.

THE INSPIRING EFFECTS

Of the Grand Chorus of Twelve Hundred Voices—Immense Attendance on Sunday—Twelve Thousand People Present.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, June 23.—The attendance at the Turner's athletic exercises at the campus to-day was immense. There must have been 12,000 spectators present. The exercises continued all day, from early morning till night, half a dozen sections forming simultaneously. The exercises closed with a mass performance, in which 1,200 Turners in uniform, assisted by an orchestra and a menagerie of two hundred voices, participated. This was a tall exercise executed to the music of an orchestra. After it was over, the body of men closed in mass and sang a song composed for the occasion, in which they were assisted by the menagerie. The effect of fourteen hundred male voices united in song in the open air was inspiring to the great audience whose applause when it was over was deafening. It was an experience that few men have ever had, that of listening to such an immense menagerie and the performance had in it elements of the sublime. The first song was sung in unison in accord by the great chorus and the volume of tone, the time and the shading were sustained throughout. To-night more than a score of banquets are in progress in the city.

WELL KNOWN IN WHEELING.
A Newspaper Man's Suicide in St. Joseph, Mo.—The Result of a Spirit.
ST. JOSEPH, MO., June 23.—Howard Hetrick, who attempted suicide last night while at the workhouse, where he had been taken to recover from the effects of a protracted spree, died this morning. The deceased had been a hobo newspaper reporter for twenty-five years, and had worked on nearly every newspaper of prominence in the whole country. His family lives at Easton, Pa.

Mr. Hetrick was at one time telegraph editor of the Intelligencer, and was well known in Wheeling. Before coming to this city he was managing editor of the Post at Washington, D. C.

A YOUTHFUL DEFAULTER.
A Nineteen-year-Old Boy Defrauds a Pittsburgh Bank Out of $35,000 in Two Years.

PITTSBURGH, PA., June 23.—Harry Flamm, book-keeper at the Marine National Bank, was placed in jail last evening on a charge of embezzlement. It is claimed that he falsified the books and appropriated to his own use in two years $35,000. He is not yet of age, but had distinguished himself by running away with Colonel Kilgore's daughter, and marrying her in New Jersey. He was fixed at $20,000, but he was unable to get it. What he has done with the money will make a good story.

Harry Flamm is a mere boy. As near as can be ascertained he is not over 10 years of age. His father, who was well known in Pittsburgh, but not a wealthy man, died seven years ago. Young Flamm was one of the persons who attended the funeral. He had a good education, and was especially quick at figures.

The directors of the bank had no reason to suspect that anything was wrong with Flamm's accounts until they found that Flamm had been systematically falsifying accounts, making false records and forcing false balances. It was only yesterday afternoon that these facts were found, and the Board directed Mr. O'Neill, the President, to make the information which was brought to light. Mr. Flamm's case is one of the ordinary run of bank defalcations. He had been in the bank only two years, and is not yet of age, and was not of his own accord placed in such a responsible position.

SWEET OVER THE DAM.

Four Young People Drowned While Boating in Fairmount Park.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 23.—This afternoon two young gentlemen, accompanied by two young ladies, all probably under twenty years of age, engaged a row boat at one of the boat houses on the Schuylkill river, in Fairmount park, and started out for an afternoon's pleasure. They ventured too close to Fairmount dam, and owing to a break in the cross of the structure, which caused an unusually heavy flow of water, their boat was drawn over and all of the occupants were drowned. The bodies of the two females were recovered this evening, but have not been identified. The bodies of the men have not yet been found, and nothing can be learned which would establish their identity.

IMPROVEMENT FOR LITTLE WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 23.—The Washington Electric Street Railway Company has been chartered, with a capital stock of $200,000. The stockholders are L. N. Singley, H. W. Williams and J. S. Ellsworth, of Washington, and D. Levy, A. H. Silverman and G. D. Wey, of Pittsburgh, Pa. At a meeting of the stockholders the following board was chosen: L. N. Singley, President; J. H. Silverman, Secretary, and G. D. Levy, Treasurer. The road will be built immediately and is to take in the principal streets.

THE PRESIDENT'S OUTING.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—It is believed the President will immediately after July 1 begin the series of short jaunts to Deer Park, which will constitute his summer vacation. The general plan is for President Harrison to leave the White House on Friday afternoon, travel to Deer Park and remain there Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The remainder of the week will be spent at the Executive mansion.

FOUND DEAD IN THE LUMBER ROOM.

WATERLOO, ONT., June 23.—A. A. Adams, a druggist of this place, mysteriously disappeared Thursday night. His dead body was found in a lumber room of his house. His family is absent.

GEN. SIMON CAMERON.

The Dying Statesman May Survive for Several Days Yet.

LANCASTER, PA., June 23.—Gen. Simon Cameron is still alive, and his condition is practically unchanged from yesterday. The doctors now say that he may survive for several days yet, although his condition is very weak, consequent upon the lack of nourishment.

HOPING AGAINST HOPE.

Mrs. Hayes' Condition Does Not Improve. Remedy from Kentucky.
FREMONT, O., June 23.—Ex-President Hayes and family are still anxiously and prayerfully watching for a ray of hope for the recovery of the wife and mother. It is now over forty-eight hours since the attack and there is no manifest change for the better in the condition of Mrs. Hayes. The ministers of the different churches to-day made touching references to her illness in their prayers and there is a feeling of sadness over the whole city and all are anxious to hear a word from her bedside.

At noon to-day Dr. Richard Hayes went to the depot to meet friends and he expressed himself as not hopeful. At 2 o'clock Mrs. Rice and Hill said there was no appreciable change, and yet it was a favorable twelve hours before. Dr. Rice said that he had known cases where they remained in the same condition for ten days, then grew worse and remained so for a period of ten days more and then recovered.

Telegrams of sympathy continue to pour in from all parts of the United States.

At 8 o'clock to-night a member of the family announced that Mrs. Hayes was not so well.

GROWING WEAKER.

11:30 p. m.—The physicians have just left the Hayes residence and report that Mrs. Hayes seems in greater stupor and her condition is regarded as less favorable. She has taken no nourishment since Friday and is gradually growing weaker.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S SABBATH.

He Attends Church at Cape May—How He Spent the Day.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 23.—A great many people were disappointed this morning because the President and Mrs. Harrison did not worship at the Presbyterian church here, as a rumor that they would do had gone abroad. It had been arranged, however, that the President's party should attend service at Beadle Memorial Presbyterian Church at Cape May Point, which stands directly upon the beach, within a stone's throw of the Wanamaker cottage. It is not being very difficult to know the whereabouts of the President and his party. The little white cottage was not uncomfortably crowded. There was a number of 11 when the President and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Wanamaker, Mrs. Harrison's father and Rev. Dr. Wylie came in. Dr. Wylie is pastor of the Beadle Memorial Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and officiated on this occasion. Mrs. Harrison's father, the Rev. Dr. Scott, sat behind the sacred desk with Dr. Wylie. The pulpit was nicely decorated with blooming plants. The President and wife occupied the second pew in front of the speaker, Mr. Wanamaker on the right.

After returning from church, President and Mrs. Harrison and Mr. Wanamaker took seats on the veranda over which the fresh sea breeze softly played. Mr. McKean, of the Philadelphia Ledger, and one or two other gentlemen were the only callers, it having been both the President's and Mr. Wanamaker's desire that only a few personal friends be admitted to the house. To-morrow forenoon, it is understood, the President will receive all who may wish to call. From all the surrounding country to-day visitors have come to catch a glimpse of Cape May's distinguished President. The President is expected to leave for Washington in Vice President Sewell's private car, but has promised to return on Saturday.

REPUBLICANS NOT TO BLAME.

Mr. Foster Defends the Party from Prohibition Attacks.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, of Iowa, Chairman of the Woman's National Republican Committee, and well-known as a Republican prohibitionist, was in Chicago yesterday on her way home from Rhode Island, where she was actively engaged in the amendment campaign. Speaking of the defeat in Rhode Island and New Hampshire, she said: "It is a new evidence of the power and extent to which the liquor traffic has depraved the people of this country." Mrs. Foster denied that there had been a genuine loss in Rhode Island and New Hampshire, but she added:

"In Massachusetts and Pennsylvania the contest was free and fair. The Republican party in both States declared for submission and redemption. I pledged my district who early advised me of his candidacy and to whom I promised cheerful support, and no contingency can arise which would induce me to place myself, or permit myself to be placed, in a position of even apparent opposition to him or the other honorable gentlemen contesting for the nomination."

"But, Mr. McKinley, it is said that it is your duty to accept the nomination if tendered you, notwithstanding you are not a candidate; in fact that it is a call to duty which you must obey."

"Yes, but, my dear sir, don't you know there is no public duty which demands the sacrifice of good faith to party aspirations?"

The Major would not risk his opinion as to who the nominee would be. He said, however, that he expected to attend the Columbus convention.

LOOKS LIKE FORAKER.

Belief that He will be Renominated at Columbus.

IN SPITE OF HIS REPEATED

Declarations that He Does Not Desire the Honor—The Peculiar Circumstances—McKinley Won't have it Under any Condition.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, June 23.—The belief here seems to be practically universal that Foraker will be renominated. There are exceptions, of course, but the drift is all that way. At the outset, however, it is proper to bear in mind that any judgment at present is simply one arrived at from general observation and impression, and is not based on carefully balanced calculations or estimates. So far as heard from, very few delegations are pledged or instructed, and there is a notable backwardness on the part of delegates in declaring themselves. The great bulk of the delegates will come here prepared to do the best thing—to discuss the situation with one another, and to take up that man whose nomination would be most likely to preserve the unity of the party and consequently victory.

Governor Foraker is in a peculiar and, in some respects, a delicate position. He is a man of perfect consistency. There can be no doubt as to where he stands. Last night he was exactly where he was two months ago. It has been emphasized and made more prominent, but that has been by force of circumstances, and by whom? It is not advocates or prophecy his nomination call "the logic of the situation." Governor Foraker says—and he has right along said—that he was not a candidate and that he did not desire the nomination; but he has never said that he would not accept the nomination if given him. The time was when the latter contingency was not a consideration, but during the past few weeks it has been, and from the first time the question has been put to him by Governor McKinley, he has frankly said that he would accept. If the Convention nominated him. With-out unnecessarily going into private affairs, it is legitimate to say that some of the Governor made arrangements looking to a resumption of the practice of his profession at Cincinnati. The Governor has obligations that render such a step of the utmost importance, and these obligations, outside of other considerations, interpose between him and a Senatorial career, at least for some years yet. Still, it would not be proper to present the Governor as a martyr. As between the Governorship and the Senatorship, the Governor would, for many reasons, prefer the latter, and he was again nominated and elected Governor, the presumption is justified that he would serve out his term, although it is doubtful whether he has ever committed himself on that point.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

McKinley says he will not permit his Name to be used for the Governorship of Ohio.

CANTON, O., June 23.—After persistently declining to talk about the Governorship, Major McKinley, the tariff champion and the Sherman disciple whose refusal of support for President Harrison nearly took away the breath of the Republican National Convention, last night first allowed himself to be quoted. Of course it is known here that for weeks he has been besieged by solicitations to come out as a candidate and that he has declined, but as he would never consent to be talking about himself and the Governor's office, no one is ever thought to have received an atom of encouragement that he might become a candidate.

He talked last night because of the story from Cadiz of the gathering of Eastern Ohio Republicans to urge his nomination against his declarations of refusal to know who they were about and that he would accept. This report stirred up the hopes of the local McKinley boomers and they wanted to know why Cadiz had the first knowledge on the subject, but McKinley gave them no hint, and said to the correspondent who called on him:

"I am not a candidate for Governor, nor will I permit the use of my name before the Columbus convention for such a purpose. I mean, and every word of it. There are many reasons to influence me to this conclusion which I need not name. Those I shall name are sufficient if there were no others."

"I have said to some of the candidates not to know who they were about and that he would accept. This report stirred up the hopes of the local McKinley boomers and they wanted to know why Cadiz had the first knowledge on the subject, but McKinley gave them no hint, and said to the correspondent who called on him:

"All of the candidates are my personal friends, and I shall be a candidate if they early advised me of his candidacy and to whom I promised cheerful support, and no contingency can arise which would induce me to place myself, or permit myself to be placed, in a position of even apparent opposition to him or the other honorable gentlemen contesting for the nomination."

BROOK COUNTY DEPOSITIONS.

Show a Bad State of Affairs—The Governmental Contest Committee.

GRAFTON, W. VA., June 23.—The gubernatorial contest committee finished the reading of the Brooke county depositions Saturday, and of about 400 votes challenged by Goff, five were thrown out. Judgment has not yet been passed upon the votes assailed by Fleming, of which there are also about 200, but when it is, the result will stand about even in Brooke county if not a little in Fleming's favor, so says the committee. The depositions show a bad state of affairs in Brooke, parties having voted there promiscuously from Pennsylvania and Ohio, without even being examined by the election officers, and it is possible a whole precinct may yet be thrown out. The committee will tackle Gilmer county next.

PARKERSBURG NOTES.

Another Fine Hotel—A Change of Date.

The Hotel Downing, etc.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 23.—There are good prospects of another fine hotel here. Messrs. Peyton and Parish, of Charleston, have been here negotiating for a site on which to erect a building for that purpose.

D. Stearns Thompson, Superintendent of the Camden Consolidated Works, will resign in a very short time to become Superintendent of the new coal and coke company which is to operate along the line of the Monongahela River Railroad.

There are grave suspicions that Harvey Duncan was not accidentally drowned, but that he was the victim of foul play.

The commencement exercises of the High School were held Friday night at the Academy of Music and were very successful. There were eleven graduates.

The State Reform School.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 23.—Governor Wilson has appointed as Commissioners to select a site for the State Reform School and to secure the title for the ground, the following named gentlemen: First district, Col. A. A. Francis; second, J. P. Scott; third, J. P. Scott; fourth, J. P. Scott; fifth, J. P. Scott; sixth, J. P. Scott; seventh, J. P. Scott; eighth, J. P. Scott; ninth, J. P. Scott; tenth, J. P.
